Tuesdays are Black Belt Instructor-Led classes. The lead instructor will be teaching new techniques, practicing strikes on pads or heavy bags, sparring, meditation, stretching, conditioning and discussing the history or philosophy of the art.

The class also provides opportunity for higher belt students to mentor beginner students. PROGRAM RULES and GUIDELINES

Tae Kwon Do is more than physical exercise and learning skills. It is about becoming a better person through martial arts development. We have expectations of our students, parents, and instructors to help achieve this goal as well as enrich those around them.

- Due to class size and teacher-student ratio, the age minimum is 6 years old.
- A parent or guardian is required to be inside the classroom for all White belt students.
- Students will sign in when they come into the classroom. Responsible adults may help the younger students, as we are starting their journey to being more responsible by letting them sign themselves in.
- Students will remove their shoes and socks - and put them to the side of the entrance area. Also, remove any jewelry to prevent personal injury to or damage to the item.
- No chewing gum is allowed in class.
- A clean white t-shirt should be worn under their uniform.
- Students are encouraged to bring a water bottle to class in order to stay hydrated. Classes are not long, but we will let them get a drink if needed. The water bottles should be kept by their personal gear. During class, if a student needs a drink break, they may raise their hand to request to get a drink.
- Students are encouraged to use the restroom before class but may raise their hand to request permission to use the restroom.
- Students are not allowed to sit on chairs. Chairs are reserved for parents and guardians. Students may sit on the floor before class begins.
- Students may warm up with other students until the class is called to “Line Up!”.
- All students will show respect to their instructors and senior students. This includes answering “yes sir/ma’am” or “no sir/ma’am”. This is part of learning respect within martial arts.
- When called to “Line Up” by the lead instructor, students will quickly and quietly line up in the front of the classroom in belt order. Senior students will help new/younger students to line up.
- Each class will open and with a prayer. Students are expected to remain at attention and quiet during the prayer.
- Students will recite the opening Oath with the instructor.
- The instructor will lead the students in a warm-up.
- If a student is late for class, they must stand in the back of the classroom with their hand raised. Wait to be recognized by the instructor, and request permission to join the class.

- At ALL TIMES, students are expected to follow the instructor's directions to the best of their ability. Backtalk or disrespect will not be tolerated and may result in the student being asked to sit out for part of the class.
- There will be no contact between beginner students. Sparring will not occur until the student has attained a senior belt status which is at the discretion of the senior instructor.
- Instructors may use positive, gentle touch to correct stance and movement of the students during floor exercises.
- If time permits, the instructor will lead the students in a fun drill at the end of each class.
- Once the class is finished, the instructor will again call to "Line Up". Students will quietly line up in belt order. The instructor or another school leader will pass along announcements about class and church-related opportunities.
- The instructor will lead the students in the closing Oath.
- The instructor or school leader will conclude instruction with a closing prayer.
- The instructor will dismiss the class.
